Dear Alumni,
The Alumni Association of Government College University Hyderabad (GCUH) celebrating its 30th year of charter aiming to boost a strong and accomplished alumni community. Our former GCH students have accomplished remarkable achievements in various diversified fields such as judiciary, journalism, business, bureaucracy, sports, film & TV, politics, medicine, and more. It has always been a pleasure to meet and greet fellow alumni from various walks of life, proudly identifying themselves with our esteemed institution.

Just as foundations support a building, alumni form the bedrock of an organization. A robust alumni network ensures that our alma-mater stays current with the latest trends and advancements in our respective domains.

We are truly committed to transform the Alumni Association of Government College University Hyderabad to a dynamic, enduring, and pride-filled community. Let me assure you that our relentless efforts will yield good results to make the association to thrive unabated; In-Sha-Allah.

M. Iqbal Qureshi Patron-in-chief

Dear Alumni,
Warm greetings to all of you!
As the elected Secretary of the Alumni Association of Government College University Hyderabad (Karachi chapter), I am thrilled to welcome you to alumni platform. Our shared goal is to foster a stronger sense of community among us, and I firmly believe that our collective efforts can rekindle the bonds we share. This is first newsletter of Karachi chapter. I am honored to serve as Secretary, and my vision is to nurture lasting friendships among our alumni. With your valuable support and experiences, we can connect alumni from all corners of the world, aligning with our mission and vision.

We have already initiated a welfare fund to assist students and families in need. Our objectives include promoting unity among alumni, organizing engaging activities, and building connections with both GCUH and other Alumni associations. We aim to create a Multipurpose Society and a top-notch club for our members, alongside adopting schools, colleges, and recreational centers to provide modern facilities.

Moving forward, I encourage you to stay connected, participate in our events, and share your ideas. Your involvement is crucial for our association's success, and we eagerly anticipate working together to achieve our mission and goals. Grateful acknowledgment to Mr. Fahim Qureshi for making this book a reality.

We honor the memory of those who've passed, including Syed Abdullah Shah, former Chief Minister of Sindh, Saiyed Ahmed Siddiqui, former Chief Secretary of Sindh, Syed Qamaruz Zaman Shah, politician, Surgeon Dr. Faiz Muhammad, Film Star Muhammad Ali, and many more.

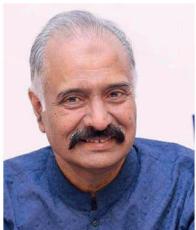

M. Amin Yousuf Secretary Karachi Chapter

History & Creation of Alumni

- Established in 1917, Government College, Hyderabad is one of Pakistan's oldest institutions, with alumni serving across the nation and abroad. Fond memories of their college days evoke pride and happiness whenever they reunite.
- Recognizing the need for an organization, many former students felt it was time to establish a platform for annual gatherings, where they could exchange views, relive memories, and collaborate on welfare projects for mutual benefit, and supporting those facing genuine challenges.
- In pursuit of this goal, alumni of Government College, Hyderabad convened on 29 January, 1998 and created the Alumni Association, Government College, Hyderabad. This independent, non-political, and non-profit organization focuses on fostering connections, preserving memories, and developing welfare initiatives.

Prof: Dr. Tayyaba Zarif has made history as the first permanent Vice Chancellor of Government College Hyderabad University, appointed based on merit after interviews by the Sindh chief minister. Her selection addresses the need for a public sector university in Hyderabad, the second-largest city in Sindh. The elevation of Government College Kali Mori to university status, with Dr. Zarif as Vice Chancellor, marks a significant step, particularly as she is the first female to hold this position. Dr. Zarif, previously the acting vice chancellor of Nawabshah University, brings a wealth of experience. With an academic background including an MA in Education from Karachi University and subsequent MPhil and PhD, her leadership is transforming Government College University Hyderabad (GCUH) into an emerging brand of higher education in Sindh. The university has even achieved recognition in international rankings within a remarkably short time under her guidance.

Proud Phulellians

Anwar Zaheer Jamali, a distinguished legal luminary and a devoted Phulellian, left an indelible mark on the judicial landscape of Pakistan. Serving as the 24th Chief Justice of Pakistan, his unwavering commitment to principles became evident early in his career when he refused to take a fresh oath under the Provisional Constitutional Order, earning widespread acclaim.

Born in Hyderabad (Sindh) to parents who migrated from Jaipur, India in 1947, Jamali embarked on his academic journey at the University of Sindh. In 1971, he earned his bachelor's degree in Commerce, followed by a bachelor's degree in Law in 1973 from the same institution. His legal prowess and dedication to justice were recognized as he enrolled as an Advocate of the Lower Court in 1975, progressing to become an Advocate of the Sindh High Court in 1977. In 1987, he reached the pinnacle of his legal career by being enrolled as an Advocate of the Supreme Court. Beyond his judicial responsibilities, Jamali played pivotal roles, including serving as the Acting Chief Election Commissioner of Pakistan and as the Chief Justice of the Sindh High Court. In 1995, his peers elected him Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Sindh Bar Council.

Justice Ghulam Rabbani, born on October 20, 1944, in Hyderabad, Sindh, is a distinguished legal figure. Graduating with distinctions in Arts from the University of Sindh, he also earned his LLB from the same institution. A fellow of the Commonwealth Judicial Institute in Canada, he imparted legal knowledge as a teacher at Hyderabad Sindh Government Law College since 1965. Justice Rabbani's legal journey includes practicing as an Advocate before subordinate Courts and the High Court. He served as Additional Advocate General Sindh in 1996-1997 and held key roles in bar associations, such as Joint Secretary and General Secretary of the Hyderabad District Bar Association. His contributions extend beyond the courtroom, including membership in the Federal Review Board, Chairman of the Selection Committee for Judicial Officers in Sindh, and roles in various educational and civic boards. Elevated as a Judge of the High Court of Sindh in 1998, Justice Rabbani later became an ad-hoc judge in the Supreme Court of Pakistan in 2006. Notably, he was a member of the Bench in 2007 that ordered not to take an oath under the Provisional Constitutional Order (P.C.O.).

Justice Rtd Amir Hani Muslim, known for his outspoken and courageous stance as a judge. In August 2002, he was appointed as a Judge of the Sindh High Court and gained prominence. In a pivotal moment in Pakistan's constitutional history in November 2007, Justice Hani Muslim emerged as a beacon of judicial independence. Faced with the Provisional Constitution Order (PCO), a challenge to the autonomy of the judiciary, he, along with other steadfast judges, refused to take the oath under its provisions. This resolute stand not only showcased his personal integrity but also underscored his commitment to upholding the sanctity of the legal system. His commitment to upholding the rule of law led to his elevation as a Supreme Court judge in February 2011. Justice Hani's roots trace back to Kotri in District Dadu. In addition to his judicial career, he also served as the Chairman of the Water Commission Sindh, demonstrating his dedication to addressing critical issues in the region. Justice Rtd Amir Hani Muslim's career is a testament to his principled and courageous approach to the judiciary. From his early days as a Judge of the Sindh High Court to his elevation to the Supreme Court, he has consistently demonstrated a commitment to justice, the rule of law, and public service, both in the courtroom and in addressing critical regional issues.

Proud Phulellians

Raja Pervaiz Ashraf, a prominent Pakistani politician, businessman, and agriculturist, has been serving as the Speaker of the National Assembly since April 2022. Previously, he held the position of the 19th Prime Minister of Pakistan from June 22, 2012, to March 16, 2013, completing his designated term. Before assuming the role of Prime Minister, Ashraf served as the Minister for Water and Power and was actively involved in politics as the Secretary General of the PPP. Born and raised in Sanghar, Sindh, where his parents owned agricultural land, Ashraf graduated from the Government College Hyderabad and the University of Sindh in 1970. Initially engaged in agriculture, he later entered politics and was twice elected as a Member of the National Assembly (MNA) from Gujar Khan, Rawalpindi District. During his tenure as an MNA, he contributed to committees focusing on Kashmir and Law, Justice, and Human Rights.

Syed Abdullah Shah, a luminary alumnus of Government College Hyderabad, exemplified brilliance and dedication throughout his life. Born on December 11, 1934, he embarked on a career in law, showcasing his intellectual prowess. In 1970, Mr. Shah aligned himself with the Pakistan Peoples Party (PPP) and emerged as a key figure in the provincial cabinet under Chief Minister Mumtaz Bhutto. His commitment to democracy became evident during the Movement for the Restoration of Democracy (MRD) against the Zia regime, where he endured imprisonment, demonstrating unwavering resolve. Elevating his service to the people, Syed Abdullah Shah assumed the role of Sindh Chief Minister from 1993 to 1996, leaving an indelible mark on the region. Prior to this, he held the esteemed position of Speaker of the Sindh Assembly during the PPP's rule in 1988, showcasing his adept leadership. His son Syed Murad Ali Shah served as Chief Minister of Sindh.

Prof. Surgeon Faiz Mohammad Khan, an esteemed alumnus of Government College Hyderabad, stood as a trailblazer in the realm of plastic surgery in Pakistan. His more than 45 years of dedicated service in the field garnered him numerous accolades, including the Presidential Award, Sitara-e-Imtiaz, and the Pride of Performance Award. After retiring as the head of the plastic surgery department at Jinnah Postgraduate Medical Centre (JPMC), Prof. Faiz continued his impactful work at Liaquat National Hospital in Karachi. Notably, he was a key figure in the establishment of institutions like United Medical and Dental College (UMDC), Patients Welfare Foundation (PWF), Creek General Hospital (CGH), and Plastic Surgery and General Hospital (now United Hospital). He was the founding President of the Pakistan Association of Plastic Surgery (PAPS). In addition to his contributions to medicine, Prof. Faiz was an avid cricket enthusiast, actively promoting the sport.

Mohammad Ali, the acclaimed "Shahenshah-e-Jazbaat," was a versatile actor renowned for his performances in dramatic, romantic, and historical films. Born in Rampur on November 10, 1938, to Islamic scholar Maulana Syed Murshid Ali, his family later settled in Hyderabad.

Ali, known for his charisma, pursued higher studies at Government College and City College, Hyderabad. His career began at Radio Pakistan in 1956, initially in Hyderabad and later in Bahawalpur and Karachi.

Making his film debut in "Chiragh Jalta Raha" (1962), Ali went on to star in 94 films, earning him recognition as one of the greatest actors in Asia. His cinematic journey began with "Shararat" (1963), leaving an enduring legacy in the world of Pakistani cinema.

Proud Phulellians

Major General (Rtrd) Sikander Hayat, H.I (M) a distinguished alumnus of Government College Hyderabad, stands as a shining example of academic excellence and versatile professional achievements. As a retired army officer, electrical engineer, and esteemed defense analyst, his multifaceted career reflects a commitment to service and intellectual prowess. With a remarkable tenure as the former chairman of two prestigious industrial corporations, Pakistan Steel Mills and State Engineering Corporation, Major General Sikander Hayat demonstrated exceptional leadership and managerial acumen.
